Executive Proclamation

Office Of The Governor

WHEREAS, The pursuit of the past and the wisdom it embodies are a vital link to our better understanding of what we are in the present; and,

WHEREAS, Those who enthusiastically embrace an independent investigation into the days of yore find their lives are enriched and their curiosity stimulated by this inquisitorial experience; and,

WHEREAS, National History Day is April 30, 1983, and it is a day set aside to promote interest and appreciation for the study of history; and,

WHEREAS, On that day, students nationwide will be developing their awareness of historical resources in their communities, they will be encouraged to look into the kaleidoscope that is history, and they will be developing a healthy respect for the vastness of the past; and,

WHEREAS, Statewide, teachers and students in elementary, secondary, and higher education will be working to foster a greater enthusiasm for understanding one's own heritage; and,

WHEREAS, In Pierre, district winners of a statewide history contest will be meeting for the first time to compete for the honor of representing South Dakota at the National Championships in College Park, Maryland; and,

WHEREAS, Though at times it is difficult to imagine that there was life on earth before we were born, one glance at any history text is assurance that we are not alone in this great big jungle that is man's history:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, WILLIAM J. JANKLOW, Governor of the State of South Dakota, do hereby proclaim April 30, 1983, as

HISTORY DAY

In South Dakota, with a reminder that history is made every day, and unless you keep reading, the world is going to get smarter faster than you will.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the Great Seal of the State of South Dakota, In Pierre, the Capital City, this Second Day of February, In the Year of Our Lord, Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-Three

William J. Janklow
